✦ Read the following paragraph carefully and answer Q. No. 25, 26, 27, 28, 29, 30, 31 and 32.

In Pakistan, the rainy season starts in early July and continues up to the end of September. It comes as a great relief from the excessive heat of summer. Birds, animals, plants and human beings all welcome the rainy season as it gives them relief. The sky presents a very beautiful scene. The clouds of different shades move in the sky and look pleasant. The trees get covered with new leaves. New grass grows in the dry fields and they turn green. Where rain gives relief to the world suffering from heat, it also causes trouble by confining people to their homes. When it rains for several days the roads become muddy and it becomes difficult to walk. As a result of heavy rainfall rivers, ponds and drains get filled with water. The rivers often overflow and cause floods. The mud houses collapse and cause much damage. We all depend on food for survival. Rain helps in cultivation of various crops. Lack of rain causes famine leading to failure of crops and lack of food. Many people die due to famine. In short, rain plays a vital role in the overall economic growth of agricultural countries.
